Fund Comment

South African capital markets had a stellar performance in June, driven by the 2024 National and Provincial Election results, marking a new political era with unprecedented alliances. The potential coalition between the African National Congress and the Democratic Alliance has bolstered market sentiment. The property market led with a remarkable 5.95% return, followed by bonds and equities at 5.18% and 4.06%, respectively. Market participants will closely monitor the new cabinet, hoping that positive sentiment will translate into reforms. Risk premiums on South African government bonds have decreased significantly, with yields trending about 40-50 basis points lower over the last month, driven by risk-on trading. South African inflation has remained steady at around 5.2% year-on-year for the last two months, while Namibian inflation ticked up to 4.9% year-on-year. The portfolio's asset mix remains well-positioned to take advantage of the current macroeconomic environment.
